

Jefferson County Apprenticeship Records

These apprenticeship records were compiled by Miss Mary Hill. The transcription is undated, and although book and page numbers are given, the nature of the books is not cited. However, these are probably from court records. These are copied verbatim from the transcription, except that Miss Hill's records were only roughly alphabetized – for example, all B's are together, but not in exact alphabetical order. I have also eliminated exact duplicates. There are some repetitions where information about the same apprentice, entered on different dates or with different masters. These have been kept. There are also some comments in which the word margin is used. It appears that there were margin notes, including entries that denoted cancellation of contracts. I have merely left these as listed in Miss Hill's records.

This list does not represent all of the apprenticeship records. There is a separate Jefferson County Apprenticeship Book covering 1846-1882 that has not yet been transcribed.
